A wave of reform has swept over Manchester, and it is hard to determine just what is the cause. Whether or not the observance of Lent has had the desired effect or not is not known, but the police department has not made an arrest since Friday. This is indeed remarkable, generally the police are kept op the gownenever a general holiday omes along. Perhaps when the matter is considered theroughly it will be found that the "rock pile" is the thing which is keeping the people within the bounds of the law.

To Observe Holiday.

Although to-day is not a legal holiday, dren participated. The program included recitations, choruses and soles.

At Central Methodist Episcopal Church yesterday the men's Bible class had a large meeting. There were eighty members present. The special Easter music rendered by the choir was very fine.

At Clopton Street Baptist Church Rev. Decatur Edwards, of Fredericksburg, preached at both services. In the morning a collection was taken up in the Sunday-school and church, and this amounted to $500, which will go toward defraying the expenses incident to the extensive improvements which have been made upon the church.

DEFEAT HERMITAGE. Randolph-Macon Wins Decisive

Randolph-Macon Wins Decisive
Victory by Score of 7 to 1.
Randolph-Macon defeated the Hermitage Club, of Richmond, in a well-played game Saturday afternoon. The first five timings were holly contested, but in the sixth, with two men out, Randolph-Macon fell upon the Richmond pitcher, and, aided by an error on the part of the Hermitage Club, scored five runs. The remainder of the game was close, but uninteresting. Martin pitched well, and the batting of lifte, for Randolph-Macon, was of a high order.

ANNUAL MEETING.

A report was current in the section of the city around Cherry and Cary Streets yesterday that a man had whipped a' child to death. The rumor spread rapidly, and there was some excitement for a while. The Second District police made an investigation, and discovered that the report arose from a small family row in a residence near that corner. During the disturbance, which was between a citzen and his son-in-law, a child began to cry, hence the report. No arrests were made.

Nightmare

Up to this time it has been impossible to learn from the members of the Third Ward delegation just who will be recommended to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Assemblyman C. C. Cox.

Liessrs. Adkins and Lindsay have been questioned concerning the matter, but they state that they have not as yet picked out a man for the place.

The name of Mr. J. W. Stiles has been mentioned several times in connection with the filling of the vacancy, but Mr. Stiles has stated positively that on account of fils busins he would be unable to serve in the Council, eyen though the honor were tendered him.

There are, however, two other possibilities. One of these is Mr. J. S. Wakefield, who served in the Council as an Assemblyman from First Ward. He is one of the most energetic men ever a member of the body, and no doubt if he would allow his name to be used in connection with the appointment he would muster considerable strength.

Another gentleman who has been spoken of considerably in connection with the filling of the place, is Mr. William Hurt. Ho was a member of the City Council for fifteen years, and during that time was a hard worker, as his record shows.

A wave of reform has swept over Manchester, and it is hard to determine just what is the cause. Evening Service.

Last evening Mr. Hulten's theme was "Shall the Body Rise from the Dead?" "This is a vital question." he said, "and the hinge on which the Christian's whole faith turns. Those who are indifferent to this and entertain the idea that it is unimportant do so either from ignorance or positive unbellef.

"No fewer than forty-two times in the New Testament is the doctrine of resurrection plainly taught. The disciples of the early church made it the keynote of their teaching. It is the impregnable rock on which the whole structure of Christianity is reared."

Mr. Hulten quoted Abraham and the prophets to show that even hundreds of years before Christ the patriarchs had a distinct idea with regard to this.

Several scientific objections to the doctrine were overruled by simple, straightforward arguments, and then the speaker drew a touching picture of the joy at the day of resurrection, when loved ones shall be united in cternal joy.

Again there were a number of conversions, midding a total for the day of about thirty.

To Observe Holiday.

Although to-day is not a legal holiday, many persons will take holiday. A large number of private pienies and gishightips had been scheduled for to-day, but owing to the weather conditions it is probable that these will be postponed. Some of the stores of the city will be closed, and most of the factories suspended operations Saturday at noon, and will not be reopened until to-morrow.

Mr. Mathews Resigns.

Mr. Kirk Mathews, who has been for several years organist at Bainbridge Street Baptist Church, has resined his position. He retired after the services yesterday. Mr. Mathews will be succeeded by Mrs. T. E. Burton.

Easter Music in the Churches. The Missionary Society of Cowardin Avenue Christian Church, which has a members pip of sixty-nine, rendered a most appropriate Easter program at the morning service yesterday. Forty children participated. The program included recitations, choruses and soles.

Court at This Term.

The Ford will case is likely to be called and set for trial at this term of the Chancery Court of the city of Richmond, which begins to-day. The infant son of the late B. W. Ford is suing through his mother for a share of the ceiter of his grandfather, the late A. J. Ford, the suit being against the trustee and the committee of Mrs. A. J. Ford and against Charles Herndon, the nephew to whom B. W. Ford devised his share of his father's estate.

If the interest of B. W. Ford in the Ford estate was a vosted remain.er, it is liable for any debts he may have left, and the residue will go to the nophew, as he intended. If, on the other hand, his interest was a contingent one, then it is not hable for his debts, and the entire share to which he would have been entitled will go to his infant child who brings the suit.

The plaintiff is represented by the firm of McGuire, Riely & Bryan.
